++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
On the cloudy side in west Saturday, brighter in east.

This Evening and Tonight:
Patchy light rain in some western parts soon dying away, leaving a generally dry night with clear spells developing widely. Low cloud and perhaps the odd spot of drizzle may spread into coastal districts in the far west around dawn. Minimum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Saturday:
Rather cloudy in western parts, perhaps briefly with patchy rain, before gradually brightening up later. Eastern parts staying drier, brighter and warmer with sunny spells throughout, with light winds generally. Maximum temperature 24 deg C (75 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Rather cloudy at times through this period, with a little rain most likely on Sunday ahead of a drier start to the working week. Temperatures remaining near normal.
